Fall Missions Services

During October and November, we were privileged to visit several supporting churches in West Texas and Kansas.

Every service overflowed with the tangible presence of God and a powerful outpouring of His anointing.

We were blessed to witness several miraculous occurrences that served as powerful reminders of God's love and healing power.

One particularly moving testimony came from a woman who came forward for prayer during one of our services.

She had been unable to eat for four days due to a severe autoimmune disease that caused painful sores in her mouth.

As we prayed, we felt the presence of God moving mightily. By the end of the service, she joyfully began showing others how the blisters in her mouth had disappeared completely.

A couple of weeks later, she sent me this powerful message:

"I was having a bad outbreak in my mouth from my autoimmune infection. Sores all over my mouth, tongue, and throat. I went up for prayer, and it instantly was gone. Pain-free, no sores, no burning, no skin peeling."

What makes her story even more remarkable is her connection to Alaska. She grew up in North Pole, and her family's legacy is deeply intertwined with the mission field.

Her parents were missionaries who served at KJNP Radio, and her mother was also one of the founding members of Jubilee Christian School.

This testimony is just one example of how God continues to work through His people and bring healing and restoration.

We are so grateful to our supporting churches for their prayers, encouragement, and partnership in the work of missions.

Your support enables us to carry the message of hope.

Strategizing for the Future

Danean and I recently had the privilege of attending the US Missions Stewardship Summit in Springfield, Missouri.

Reaching Alaska Each Village Every Person

This inspiring event was led by US Missions Director Choco De Jesús. Leaders from across the nation came together to refocus on the mission and renew our vision for the work ahead.

Immediately following, we spent two impactful days with our Intercultural leadership team, strategizing and planning for the next steps in reaching the diverse communities we serve.

These discussions were both productive and energizing, laying a solid foundation for the work God is calling us to accomplish in the coming months.

We are excited about the vision God has given us and grateful to partner with such a dedicated team of leaders as we move forward in His plan.

A New Season and Path Forward

As we reflect on the journey that brought us to this point, we are filled with gratitude for God's guidance and provision.

Over the years, our work together has witnessed remarkable growth and transformation, and we remain deeply committed to serving our Network as US Missionaries in Alaska.

In recent months, as we prayed and prepared for an extended itineration season that Danean and I will be starting next fall, we feel it is imperative that momentum is maintained for the Alaska Home Missions department.

The original plan to navigate this next phase has shifted. After much prayer and collaboration with our leadership, we believe it is time to embrace a new approach to how we serve and lead the Alaska Home Missions department.

Moving forward, I will continue to serve as the AKHM Director with the same passion and dedication.

Alaska Home Missions is undergoing a redesign, and it is a work in progress.

Several key leaders have generously offered their assistance, and we believe that formalizing a team effort will enable us to achieve an even more significant impact in Alaska.

By sharing responsibilities and empowering others to assume leadership roles, we are confident that this will enhance our work, amplify our efforts, and allow us to proceed with even greater focus and energy.

We are filled with excitement as we anticipate how God will advance His kingdom and accomplish even greater things in the days ahead.

We deeply appreciate your continued prayers and support during this season.
